Chapleau Curling wraps up for another year

Another curling season has come to a close! It has been a great year with a full November to March season. Curlers were treated to a total of four bonspiels and two Friday night socials. The club also hosted two private parties. Membership was up this year with 48 full members and 10 spare members.

Additionally, as many as 42 "Little Rockers" participated in 7 weeks of Thursday afternoon curling. Our Club hosted free curling for these children from grades 4-8.

It was also a year for equipment upgrades. Thanks to a $10,600 grant from the Ontario Trillium Foundation, the club purchased new ice maintenance equipment, curling brooms, extenders, sliders and grippers. By all accounts, the quality of ice was excellent this year (thanks Terry), and the new equipment was used by both our youth and seniors.

New, reusable mesh curling rings were also purchased for installation next season.

Now that the ice has melted, and the club cleaned at the end of our lease, the curling executive is at work preparing for the 2013/14 season. Two large Regional bonspiels have been approved for Chapleau, the Knights of Columbus in January and the MNR in February. These will provide a big boost for our club, and for the community at large with over 50 out of town teams.

A big thank you to our Curling Executive and the many volunteers who put in countless hours installing, maintaining and removing the ice, preparing and serving food, bartending, cleaning after bonspiels, and conducting day to day business.

Shamrock Bonspiel

The final bonspiel of the year, the Shamrock Spiel, was held on March 15-16. A record 19 teams signed up for the bonspiel. It was a sea of green Friday night and Saturday as many participants dressed up in their best Shamrock costumes. We were also treated to a great night of entertainment with live music by O-T-M (On The Mark).

This bonspiel was slightly different with a point system format. A three-game round robin was followed by one final round of the top 16 teams. Godfrey Pilote's team took the A-Event, Joel Langelier the B-Event and Susan Lindquist the C-Event. Cont'd on P.4

Hughes Optimistic After Briefing And Tour Of Derailment Site

White River residents are relieved there has been significant progress cleaning the train derailment that led to an oil spill near that community last week, says Algoma-Manitoulin-Kapuskasing MP, Carol Hughes.

Hughes met with Mayor and Council Monday before touring the site with CP officials and the team of specialists assembled to deal with the multiple challenges arising from the accident.

"The Mayor and Council indicated that they were satisfied with the progress on the site," said Hughes. "I was told they've had nothing but cooperation from CP and feel the relationship is defined by open lines of communication."

After visiting the scene, Hughes feels confident that all entities involved are working together to ensure the best resolution from this derailment.

"The site is somewhat remote and the initial work of containment has to be followed by removing the cars which meant building a road to the rail line," said Hughes. "What I found encouraging was that environmental monitoring was set up immediately."

Hughes has been in contact with her provincial counterpart, Algoma-Manitoulin MPP, Michael Mantha, since the derailment occurred.

"We share the information we receive so that we can work in an organized way," said Hughes. "I am confident that this is being handled in a professional manner which gives me hope that the impact will be as minimal as possible in this particular situation."

Eyewitness Submitted by Larry Carroll (From the Beaver Magazine May 2005)

I was interested in the article about the origins of northern humour on page 21 of your October/ November 2004 issue, especially the paragraph about the wolf attacking the section man. I was the front-end trainman of the train involved.

Being on the engine when the engineer applied the brakes, I asked why he was stopping, and he said, "There's a section man fighting with a wolf." So he backed up to the spot. I hit the wolf on the head with pick, and fireman J. Green hit it with the shaker bar. This finished the wolf.

My understanding of the episode was that Mike Dusiak was patrolling on his velocipede when he took it off the rails to let our train go by. While waiting on the right of way between track-and-bush, the emaciated wolf jumped him. Mike had lost his hatchet and had only a dead branch in his hand to fend off the wolf. When we came upon them, both were winded. We put the wolf on the cowcatcher and took it to Chapleau about twelve miles away, where we notified V. Crichton of the Lands and Forests

Department, who immediately walked to Poulin to verify the story by observing the foot and animal tracks before it snowed again. He wrote an account of it in the Journal of Manunalogy [Vol 28, No 3. August 1947]. It can be found in the library of the National Archives in Ottawa.

A Students Perspective

By Alex Nicol

Chapleau Elementary and Secondary School we once again will be hosting the 5th annual Pow Wow this year on Monday, May 6 during Education th Week. Pow Wows are celebrations, social gatherings and friendly days of dancing and singing. Pow Wows allow the community to get together having fun with dancing and drumming. At the same time, they are telling a lot of meaningful information and present a lot of learning opportunities. It is a time to gather without any violence, drugs or alcohol and people get to exchange knowledge and are presented with a lot of learning opportunities.

The freshly cooked food served during the Pow Wow is excellent including the Indian tacos, bannock and scone dogs. If you haven't come up to try the amazing food offered, then this is a great opportunity for students and adults to enjoy something new.

The Pow Wow is a wonderful experience and it is amazing to see the talent that some of the dancers and drummers have. It is very powerful to see everyone gathered around as a group and take so much care in what they are doing. It is a great event for students to attend because this opportunity doesn't happen very often. Grand Entry (the official opening of the Pow Wow) will be at 10:45 a.m. followed by a great day of singing and dancing. This year's Big Drum is Big Track from Sault Ste. Marie, On. and the little drum group will be the Brunswick House First Nation Youth Drummers. We hope to see you all there to support our school and community and to cheer on all of the participants.

David McAdam earns shutout, Paul Scheer notches two hat tricks, Alan Morin scores his first NIHL goal as Huskies defeat Calvert GMs and Kirkland Lake Blue Devils at Moore Arena

by Michael J. Morris

The Kirkland Lake Blue Devils, one of the strongest teams in the Northland Intermediate Hockey League (NIHL) came to the Moore Arena for a Sunday afternoon match up with the Chapleau Huskies in November 1978, and it was fitting that David McAdam, the team's first goaltender was between the pipes for the team's first shutout in its history.

David earned his shutout in a 10-0 romp over the visitors as the Huskies made few mistakes as they went on a scoring spree, leading the Blue Devils 3-0 at the end of the first period, 6-0 when the second closed and adding four more for good measure in the third.

It was the Blue Devils first season in the NIHL and they were in first place. They eventually defeated the Huskies for the league championship.

David had been part of the team's history since it was established in the 1974-75 season and then entered the NIHL in 1975-76. He was part of the successful David Mizuguchi-David Futhey Bantams teams, then played for the Junior 'B' Huskies of the International Junior 'B' Hockey League when Earle Freeborn was the coach.

Interestingly, after his career as a goaltender, he ended his hockey playing days as a forward, playing in the town league in the 1980s.

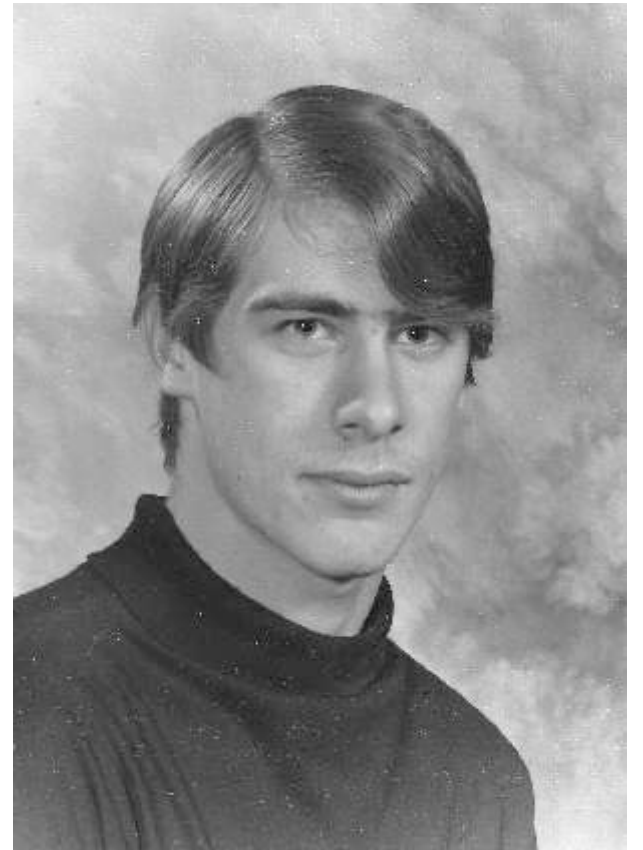

It was a very successful weekend for the locals as they defeated the Calvert GMs 12-6 in a Saturday night encounter at the Moore Arena.

More team history was made on the weekend as Paul Scheer, who was the league's Rookie of the Year in 1977-78 and set a league record for most assists, notched hat tricks in both games, while rookie Alan Morin scored his first Intermediate 'A' goal assisted by Dave Baker and Dave McMillan against the Calvert GMs.

Against the GMs, other goal scorers were Paul with two more and Alan, were Moe Poirier, John Simon with two, John Tavella with two, Bill Scheer, Dave McMillan and Tom McCrea.

Against the Blue Devils, the Huskies made few mistakes in their netbuster of a weekend with Dave Baker opening the scoring assisted by McMillan and Bill Scheer, with Paul Scheer notching his first of the game from Ron Larcher and Ted Zajac and Pat Swanson from Zajac and Ted Swanson making it 3-0 at the end of the first.

In the second Simon scored from Bill Scheer and Keith McAdam, then it was Bill again from assisted by George Card and Keith McAdam, followed by McMillan from Pat Swanson and Baker.

The scoring spree continued in the third as McMillan started it off with one from Card and Baker while Pat Swanson followed with assists going to brother Ted and Larcher.

Paul Scheer capped off his highly successful goal scoring weekend of hat tricks in both games with the final two goals with Larcher and McCrea assisting.

A Chapleau Sentinel report on the two games said it wasn't just a matter of winning two hockey games or scoring 22 goals, each player was a star in his own way and was a real morale booster for the team.

The only dark side was the loss of Jamie Doyle, one of the keenest players who was injured in the game against the Calvert GMs and had to be hospitalized. However, his injury was not serious.

Probe Mines stands out among peers with wide-scale exploration potential at Borden Lake project, says broker

Casimir Capital reiterated its speculative buy rating and $4.25 price target on Probe Mines (TSE:PRB) Tuesday, after the company's recently-completed winter ice drilling program at the Borden Lake project in Ontario revealed wider-scale exploration potential and high-grade gold intercepts.

The company noted in a release Tuesday that in total, results for 19 holes were received and were successful in identifying high-grade gold mineralization 500 metres along-strike from the previous limits of the deposit.

It also said results showed expansion of the near surface mineralization to the northwest, and continued high-grade intercepts in the southeast high-grade zone. Infill drilling also returned high-grade mineralization in the southeast section, suggesting that the high-grade zone may extend further in a northwest direction than previously indicated, Probe added.

Casimir analyst Ryan Walker said that two holes from the ice-based, step-out drilling in the southeast section both cut wide intervals of high-grade gold, suggesting continuity of the higher-grade mineralization toward the southeast. Results from three other holes in the area are pending. Highlights from the holes in the southeast section include hole 378, which returned 44 metres at 2.9 grams per tonne (g/t) gold, including 25 metres at 4.6 g/t gold, and 12.9 metres of 7.4 g/t gold.

In the northwest extension, the analyst pointed out that two step-out holes expanded shallow mineralization to the northwest of the previous deposit limits.

Walker also noted that infill drilling on the Main deposit continues to confirm overall deposit continuity and improve grades. Recent results included hole 374, which returned 49 metres at 2.3 g/t gold, including 15 metres at 5.7 g/t gold and hole 366, which cut 60 metres of 1.2 g/t gold, including 4 metres at 4.5 g/t gold.

"We contend that the latest results demonstrate the immediate and wider-scale exploration potential at the project, and should see the shares command a premium to the peers," Walker remarked.

"This is especially so as Probe continues to delineate higher grade material, helping it stand out from its peers."

Anti-Bullying Support Continues To Grow in Chapleau

Pink Shirt Day began in 2007 after two Nova Scotia teenagers encouraged their fellow students to wear pink T-shirts in support of a pupil who was being bullied for wearing a pink shirt on the first day of school. Since then, schools, businesses and communities across Canada have recognized this day.

Provincial governments continue to support anti-bullying initiatives by working with school districts, schools, students, teachers, principals, parents and communities on a multi-phased approach to create safe and healthy learning and working environments. This year, at Chapleau Elementary and Secondary School, a number of activities were organized by teachers and the administration to promote fun and interaction amongst students in all grades. The students were divided into groups in which students from junior kindergarten to grade 12 were represented. Activities included creating bullying survival kits; minute to win it activities in the gymnasium; decorating paper bricks with their graffiti anti-bullying message; IALAC – “I am lovable and caring” story and craft; baking pink cookies and decorating cupcakes to making a snow sculpture, painted red, in the form of a “nuclear peace sign” on the school hill. The day ended with a group picture in the cafeteria of all the participants wearing something in pink.

Thank you to the following who participated in Pink Shirt Day held on Wednesday, February 27, 2013:

Don't stress over the big spring clean

(NC) — With the arrival of spring it often feels like the house is the dirtiest it's been all year making the big, spring clean a great way to refresh and renew from top to bottom. From cleaning the most challenging spots, like basements and kitchens, to scrubbing baseboards and convincing the whole family to pitch in, spring cleaning may feel overwhelming at first, but with the right tools and techniques, it doesn't have to be a daunting task.

you're planning on cleaning a little bit every day or dedicating a weekend to cleaning, here are some quick and easy tips that will save time and energy and ensure that you're not just thinking about cleaning, but actually getting it done:

Tackle one task at a time. It's easy to get distracted when cleaning and organizing multiple rooms in the house at the same time, so stick to one. This will give you a more immediate sense of satisfaction and get you closer to the end goal.

Clean from top to bottom, literally. To prevent messing up areas that have already been cleaned, clean from the top working your way down. This ensures that all of the dust and dirt that may have fallen on the floor will get cleaned up.

Set up bins for decluttering and label them: Keep, Garbage, Donate. Having a visual representation of what you're keeping can help you assess the space you need to house the items. If you haven't used an item in the past year, chances are you can do without it.

Get into those hard to reach spaces. Rely on the help from ingenious little tools. A Swiffer Duster will easily clean behind cabinets, between blinds, and will reach the tiny nooks and crannies around your entertainment unit.

Pay attention to details. Another nifty tool called Mr. Clean Magic Eraser Select-A-Size will get rid of the toughest soils like scuffs, crayon or finger prints from walls. It's the little details that will make the overall clean look really come together.

More information is available online at www.mrclean.ca and www.swiffer.ca.

Probe Mines Appoints Michael Petrina as Chief Operating Officer

and subsequent operation of three projects: Teck Resources Bullmoose Coal, TVX's New Britannia Mine and Pan American Silver's Hauron Mine. He also played a key role in the development of Adanac Molybdenum's Ruby Creek project taking it to the detailed engineering phase.

As part of his role, Mr. Petrina will review and provide guidance on the work being done for the Borden Gold deposit PEA. Recent drilling results suggest that the potential for high-grade, underground gold resources may have a significant positive impact on the scope and economics of the project, and affect the PEA timeline. Updates on the PEA will be released when available.

Dr. David Palmer, President of Probe, states: "We are very pleased to have Mike join our team. The Company and the Borden Gold project are growing rapidly and Mike's depth of skills and experience will be invaluable for advancing the project through to development. Mike joins us at the most opportune time, as he will be guiding the project from the beginning, starting with the PEA, and through potential development. The project continues to evolve and Mike's background in both open-pit and underground operations will allow us to maintain our momentum and adapt to the positive changes in this growing project."

Mr. Petrina will begin working as Probe's COO on April 16th, 2013. As a COO, Mr. Petrina will be granted options to acquire 250,000 common shares of Probe for a period of five years.
