Chapleau Senior Citizens Honour Dr. Young

Margaret Fife and Velma Morin of the Chapleau Senior Citizens Club, along with André Byham, Councilor, Township of Chapleau, present Dr. G. E. Young with a plaque from the Seniors Club acknowledging his long term contribution to our community.

February 11th was a busy day for the Chapleau Senior Citizens Club. After presenting the Chapleau General Hospital Foundation with a generous donation, a social was held at the Bignucolo Residence to acknowledge Dr. Young's contribution to our community during his many years of medical practice. Residents of the Bignucolo Residence and approximately 40 members of our community, including members of the Chapleau Senior Citizens Club, came together to honour Dr. Young.

Representatives from the Senior Citizens Club and the Township presented Dr. Young with a plaque acknowledging his tremendous commitment to the health and well being of the citizens of our community during his years of medical practice. Dr. Young was pleasantly surprised and deeply appreciative of this acknowledgment and thanked the community for thinking of him.

Following the presentation, the Seniors Choir, lead by Nancy Sylvestre, entertained the group with familiar songs as guests sang along. Refreshments were served while guests had the opportunity to individually thank Dr. Young and exchange fond memories of the excellent care they and their families received during his practice.

Dr. Young is now proudly displaying the plaque in his room at the Bignucolo Residence right above the photo of his graduating medical school class.

The plaque reads as follows: "In acknowledgement of your tremendous commitment to the health and well being of the citizens of our community during your many years of medical practice in Chapleau. You will always be remembered and are truly loved by all for your dedication.

Presented by the Chapleau Senior Citizens Club, February 11th, 2010.

Support for the Chapleau General Hospital Foundation's 'Together we will grow!' campaign is increasing steadily with the generosity of local groups such as the Chapleau Seniors Citizens Club. "We are very appreciative of the decision by the Seniors to have chosen our Foundation during this campaign. I would also like to recognize the Seniors for their history of support for healthcare in our community", said David Repath, Chair, Chapleau General Hospital Foundation. The club located in Cedar Grove offers activities throughout the week such as fitness classes, art classes, walking clubs and much more. Memberships are available for $10 at Cedar Grove. Lise Bernier, treasurer of the Chapleau Senior Citizens Club presents a cheque in the amount of $500 to support the campaign to David, and Gail Bignucolo, CEO, Services de santé de Chapeau Health Services.

1) What made you decide to go into nursing - did you have some exposure to the field while in high school?

I liked taking caring of people. Being the oldest child of two younger siblings made it more or less second nature to me.

2) What courses do you feel it's important to take while in high school if you want to go into a health career?

Focus of the sciences and math, biology and chemistry are a must and many programs now include physics. Basic math is also important for drug/dosage calculations.

3) What advice can you give to students who are nervous about going out of town to large colleges/ universities and being in large class sizes? What will help them be successful in this environment?

Put yourself out there and be involved. Network with classmates and form your own little group to lean on for support and study related activities. There is a large world outside of the borders of Chapleau and it's important to experiences new things and take on new challenges. Even though you may find yourself in a larger centre many of the same clicks and groups seem to form you just have more options to choose from. Leaving home can be a scary thought however it makes you appreciate your time here more on your visits home.

4) What educational achievements have you completed & what are you continuing to work towards?

I have never stopped learning, in the nursing field it's important to stay current as there are always new developments and best practices to learn. After receiving my diploma in nursing, I pursued studies at the University level to complete various

Wilf Simpson on disappearance of the 'cheery voice' of the Chapleau telephone operators in 1976

Chapleau Moments

by Michael J. Morris

Remember those days in Chapleau when you picked up the telephone and you would hear a voice say, "Operator" or "Number please" or "That line is busy" or maybe even your name if it was late at night, and the operator was working alone, and calls were slow.

When I was away at school in the Sixties, and even after I started in the newspaper business as a reporter, on occasion I would call home late at night to catch up on the local news from the operator. Our home number was 188 as I recall. Do you remember yours?

Michael and Alison (McMillan) McMullen brought those memories back to me when I received a copy of a brief history of Chapleau written by the late Wilf Simpson in the Seventies from them recently.

Wilf, who was the deputy township clerk for 23 years, wrote the history in the Seventies and I wrote the foreword to an updated version of it in 1977 when I was reeve but had lost my copy somewhere along the way.

Back to telephones in Chapleau. Wilf noted that Chapleau "was the first location in Ontario, if not in whole of Canada, to have an automatic (dial) telephone system."

It was completed and in operation in 1924 under the name Chapleau Telephone System. Wilf wrote that it was a P.A.X. System and had a capacity of 400 telephones. The equipment was housed in a room in the basement of the old Town Hall which later was used by the Cubs and Scouts.

T.R. "Ron" Serre, the township clerk, was the secretary treasurer of the company and G.L. White, a local druggist was in charge of maintenance. Ross Kemp took over the maintenance around 1930-31 and was on the job for a number of years until he left to work for the Canadian Pacific Railway. Jim Mclean took over until the system was dismantled in 1951.

Wilf points out that Chapleau went back to manual (operator assisted) at that time with Bell Telephone taking over. For some reason automatic equipment was not available. The exchange was located in a building on Pine Street between Chapleau Public School and the home of Herb Doig. It later became the by-law officer's office.

In 1965, Chapleau again became automatic with the completion of the new Bell building at Young and Pine Street, but operators were still on duty for long distance calls.

In 1976 Chapleau got direct distance dialing and the day of the telephone operator pretty well disappeared.

Wilf commented on this move: "In 1976 'Mother Bell' gave Chapleau direct distance dialing. This may have been an improvement generally, but I still preferred the cheery voice of the operator saying, 'I'm sorry sir, all the circuits are busy' to a three minute session of clicks, bangs and bleeps akin to a chorus by the Bachman-Turner Overdrive -- only to terminate with a 'busy' signal."

For those readers who do not remember Wilf, I wrote in my foreword to his booklet that he had always been a keen observer of the municipal scene over the 23 years he spent as deputy clerk, and his previous experience with the Chapleau Post, our weekly newspaper, which was founded by his father Arthur Simpson. In congratulating Wilf on the revised publication of his history, I expressed the hope that he would continue to share his knowledge of Chapleau history with us in years to come.

Chapleau schools were dismissed early in January 1950 so that students could attend the arrival of the first diesel engine in the community. Photo thanks to David McMillan, Ian Macdonald and friends.

Just a touch of irony that I am sharing part of Wilf's history with you more than 43 years later in the Chapleau Express, a successor to the Chapleau Post where he was at one time the editor.

For many years Wilf also had a very popular orchestra that was a mainstay at local dances throughout the year in the old Town Hall basement or Legion Hall.

His brief history is a very valuable resource on the history of Chapleau, and I look forward to sharing more from it with you in future columns.

But let me finish by bringing you news about a very important development in the history of Chapleau that occurred in 1950. The first diesel locomotive arrived at the Chapleau CPR station, powering westbound transcontinental passenger train Number 7 (the Dominion) from Montreal/Toronto at 12:30 p.m. on Monday January 9, 1950. It was such an historic occasion that school was adjourned early. I remember it like it was yesterday. Thanks to David McMillan, Ian Macdonald and their friends for this one.

Again thanks for all your notes. My email is mj.morris@live.ca

I have also pursued post-graduate studies in Infection Control which have assisted me to obtain my Certification in Infection Prevention and Control through the Certification Board of Infection Control and Epidemiology. I have also completed my Health and Safety Basic and Sector Specific Certifications via Workplace Safety and Insurance Board approved Service Providers. At present I am halfway through the completion of my post RN BSCN Degree via distance education. Once this is complete who knows what's next, however I can say that nursing is a diverse field of study that can offer you many opportunities and the key is to stay current.

5) What characteristics do you think are important to be a great nurse?
Qualities of a great nurse involve traits such as compassion, caring, trust and competence.

6) What do you like best about being an RN?
I love the fact that nursing is so diverse and you can create change on a daily basis. Working in a small hospital has many benefits, as it allows you the opportunity to remain competent in more than one scope such as caring for patients with cardiac conditions, oncologic conditions, renal/hepatic conditions, respiratory conditions, etc.
7) What examples can you give of the different "careers" an RN can choose to go into?

A multitude of floor nursing positions, specialized care such as ICU type nursing, Public Health Nursing, Occupational Health Nursing, Infection Control, Consulting type work for supply companies, Disability Management, Educator positions, Wound Care Nursing, etc.

Jennifer has worked for SSCHS for 15 years and currently holds positions as a

Registered Nurse, Infection Control Practitioner, Occupational Health and

Chapleau an Extraordinary Community

We would like to sincerely thank our wonderful community for the love, financial support, cards and prayers extended to us during Brady's hospital stay in Toronto. This time was difficult for us, but knowing we had the support of people like you certainly helps. Please know we will never forget your kindness. Thank you again from the bottom of our heart. It made us truly realize that our little community really pulls together when a family is going through a life threatening situation and words could never express the gratitude we feel. Brady recently suffered another setback and required another surgery last week to remove his gallbladder. He is doing much better now and is recuperating at home in Chapleau. Brady will continue to receive therapy to help him move towards a full recovery. We are thankful most of this can be done in our home community.

We would like to send a special thank you to close family, friends and Dr. Taylor who were there from the beginning to help in anyway.

Thank you for the opportunity to share this update with you and to once again congratulate our community on their generosity and support.

Sincerely

Brian, Lina, Riley and Brady Ferguson
