Fall Fair to celebrate 40th anniversary

As the end of May is coming, the fall fair committee is hard at work planning this year's event which is being held October 12th and 13th. This year marks the 40th anniversary and is shaping up to be the largest ever. This year's theme is "Countries of the World". With a total of 55 spaces available, 45 of these are already filled. Almost half of the spaces held are from out of town participants. With only ten spaces remaining, to avoid disappointment, it is imperative that you call Phyllis at 705-864-9017 as soon as possible, if you wish to participate in this year's edition.

To mark the 40th anniversary, free ice cream and cake will be given out on Friday October 12th. This will happen shortly after 7:00 p.m. and will last until all supplies are depleted.

On Saturday evening, after the fair is over, a dinner and dance will be held for the artisans and their guests to celebrate 40 years of dedicated people who over the years have made the Chapleau Fall Fair what it is today. The fall fair has played a major role in Chapleau's history and continues to do so.

The Fall Fair committee wish everyone a safe and fantastic summer and wish to see all of you at the Chapleau Fall Fair's 40th anniversary on October 12th and 13th, 2012

Labour Minister Lisa Raitt has tabled back-to-work legislation to end a strike by 4,800 Canadian Pacific Railway employees

Simply put, the strike can't go on," Raitt told the House of Commons on Monday, adding that the government must preserve Canada's reputation as an international business partner.

"The work stoppage is preventing our ability to keep products moving in and out of Canada and that undermines Canada's reputation as a reliable place to do business," she said.

Raitt said she expects the railroad to be back in business by Thursday.

Raitt had signalled last week that the government was poised to step in if the union and company couldn't reach a deal, saying the strike could cost the Canadian economy $540 million per week, as products such as wheat, coal and potash fail to reach their destinations.

"Although our economy is still recovering, it is still fragile and we have to ask whether or not for the nation's good we can allow this work stoppage at CP Rail to continue," Raitt said in Parliament Monday.

She said hundreds of businesses are being negatively affected, many Canadians are being inconvenienced.

Chapleau High School Reunion update

By Nadia Fortin

Ninety years ago Chapleau High School first opened its doors, thus allowing thousands of students to attend over the years. As the reunion draws closer, interest in the event is reaching a peak. Because we would like as many people as possible to join us in commemorating this landmark event, we are encouraging everyone to register NOW! Registrations are being accepted at the town hall as well as by mail, please do this as soon as possible and be sure that you have a spot for this great event.

We are still looking for volunteers to help with registration and watching the exits. Those willing to help are asked to get in touch with one of the following committee members: Nadia Huard Fortin: 705-864-1255; Micheline Guertin: 705-864-0972; Graham Bertrand: 705-864-0230.

A tentative schedule has been drawn up of the weekend's activities and will appear in an upcoming Chapleau Express edition.

Spots are still available for parade floats. Come on out and show us your school spirit!

Do you still have your old prom dress? Why not let it make another public appearance by lending it to us for a display. Please contact Pam Morin at 864-0190 if you would be willing to lend us your dress for that special weekend.

The committee is anxiously awaiting the time when we see all our hard work come together!

State of emergency lifted as rain dampens area

The state of emergency was lifted in Timmins as rain helped dampen the fires.

Highway 101W was open on Tuesday, May 29th after having been closed, on and off, for a week.

All local business owners were affected, in one way or another, by the highway closure.

From auto parts to groceries, from mail to dew worms. How we take things for granted!

The Chapleau

Express was tardy in arriving last weekend due to the highway closure, but thanks to Meredith Bernier of Chapleau, it did get here. Meredith had to drive to Hearst and Hornepayne in order to return home from a trip to Timmins.

ESC Trillium unites to host the Run for the Fight against Cancer in Chapleau

On Sunday, June 3, at 11 a.m., some 50 Chapleau residents will take part in the 2nd annual Run for the Fight against Cancer organized by École secondaire catholique Trillium. Participants in this event may choose to walk or run a distance of 2, 5 or 10 kilometres. The registration fee for this fundraising event is $25 for people 12 years of age and over and $15 for participants 12 and under. Organized by school students and staff, this activity is an annual fundraising event in the fight against cancer. Proceeds from the race will be presented to the local Relay for Life organizing committee. While benefiting from the support of many volunteers, participants will enjoy a barbecue prepared by ESC

Trillium grade 8 students. There will also be a draw for prizes awarded to lucky runners and/or walkers. The first Run for the Fight against Cancer attracted 40 participants and raised a total of $640.

This year, ESC Trillium staff members are also busy organizing a team for the Relay for Life in support of the Canadian Cancer Society. While promoting values such as charity and generosity among students, this activity will also make them aware of the impact of cancer on families all the while promoting physical fitness.

For more information, please communicate with Mrs. Renée Weber, guidance counsellor and teacher at École secondaire catholique Trillium in Chapleau, at (705) 864-1211.

L'ÉSC Trillium se mobilise et organise une course à Chapleau pour la lutte contre le cancer

Le dimanche 3 juin prochain, à 11 h, une cinquantaine de citoyens de Chapleau participeront à la 2e édition de la Course pour la cause organisée par l'École secondaire catholique

Trillium. Les participants pourront choisir de parcourir 2, 5 ou 10 km à la marche ou en courant. Le coût d'inscription à cette activité de bienfaisance est de 25$ pour les personnes âgées de 12 ans et plus et de 15$ pour celles qui ont moins de 12 ans. Organisée par les élèves et le personnel de l'école, cette initiative sert d'activité annuelle de financement de la lutte contre le cancer. L'argent recueilli sera remis au comité organisateur local du Relais pour la vie, lors de leur célébration annuelle.

Tout en profitant des encouragements de plusieurs bénévoles, les participants auront droit à un barbecue qui sera offert par les élèves de la 8e de l'ÉSC Trillium. Il y aura également un tirage de prix de participation. Lors de sa première édition, la Course pour la cause avait réuni 40 participants, ce qui a permis aux organisateurs de recueillir la somme de 640 $.

En outre, les membres du personnel de l'ÉSC Trillium se préparent à former une équipe cette année qui participera au Relais pour la vie venant appuyer la Société canadienne du cancer. Tout en cultivant les valeurs de la charité et de la générosité chez les élèves, l'objectif est de les sensibiliser à l'impact du cancer sur la société et sur nos familles, tout en encourageant l'activité physique.

Popular Chapleau High School social event was annual wiener roast at Bucciarelli Beach as part of initiation

Chapleau Moments

by Michael J. Morris

With the 90th anniversary reunion festival now less than a month away, if you attended and/or taught at Chapleau High School, I am sure you are starting to dig into the mothballs of memory recalling those days when you were part of "Chapleau's high school" as George Evans put it so well in his article for the 75th anniversary.

George added: "When Chapleau's high school celebrates, the whole community celebrates. The high school is the place where the community comes together."

The school, for 90 years has been an integral part of Chapleau life, and I have discovered that writing about CHS usually means writing about the community too.

I decided to share some Chapleau High School Moments with you spanning the history of CHS from 1922 on in no particular chronological order in the next four columns. Hopefully, some will provide you with talking points at the reunion from June 29 to July 1. Thanks to Ken Schroeder, my friend and classmate at both Chapleau Public and Chapleau High schools for giving me the idea from an article he sent about growing up in the 1950s and 60s.

If any of you have memorable CHS moments or about life in Chapleau generally that you would like to share, please feel free to email them to me at mj.morris@live.ca.

Let's start with the annual wiener roast which was held at Bucciarelli's Beach in my time as student from 1955 to 1959, but according to a talk given by Jack Whitney, it was a highlight of the school year when he was a student in the late 1920s. The "outstanding event" of the evening according to one writer, was the initiation of Grade Nine students in the 1940s, but by the 1950s initiation lasted the better part of a week with the wiener roast as the social event bringing it to a close.

See if you remember some of the following from a "Do You Remember?" column in the souvenir newspaper marking the school's 60th anniversary in 1982.

Here we go with Do you remember when...

... we played basketball in the Memorial Hall gym ... now the Legion Bisco Room?

... the town curfew rang at nine p.m. and all young people headed home unless accompanied by an adult?

... parents knew their children were in class from nine to four and spares were for studying and no one left the school without permission?

... Elmore Leigh was leading the cadets and "Mr. Mac" (John McClellan) was called away so when Elmore came to the gym wall he was reprimanded because no command had been given. The following day the performance was repeated, only this time outside so when Mr. Mac was again called away even when it involved going right into the river? (There are other versions of this one)

... cracks between the boards of the wooden sidewalks claimed dimes, rings and other small things?

... hitching rides on horse sleds hauling ice for the CPR and sliding on barrel staves on the water tank hill was standard practice?

... the annual Cadet banquet was planned and executed by the Students Council and mothers were called in to cook and clean up. Students set up the tables, decorated the hall (either legion or Town Hall) planned the menu. No liquor, beer or wine even considered? For years the turkeys were cooked by B.W. 'Bubs' Zufelt in the big oven at Chapleau Bakery.

... the old swimming hole -- the 'Pig Pen' -- located on the river behind the convent was popular?

... the dances with the printed programs that had all the dances listed, waltz, fox trot, etc. When a young lady was asked for a dance she wrote her partner's name opposite the dance he wanted to have with her? The writer of the column noted that Jim Broomhead and Wilf Simpson were among those who provided the "good music" for dances.

Hope to hear from you with your memorable moments! My email is mj.morris@live.ca

“Fibre to the Home” service launched in Chapleau

It may only be a small town of 2,900 people in Northern Ontario, but as of this week, residents of Chapleau, Ontario, are getting some of the fastest fibre-optic telecomm service in Canada.

On Tuesday, May 1st, Vianet, a Northern Ontario based telecommunications company, launched their new Fibre to the Home (FTTH) network in Chapleau, about 190 kilometres northeast of Sault Ste. Marie. This next generation network will give people in Chapleau High Definition TV, super-fast Internet and reliable, affordable telephone services – better service than many people get in large centres like Toronto and Vancouver.

Dan Regaudie, Vianet’s Director of Broadcast Services, says the company is expanding its FTTH services in other larger centres as well. Chapleau was just the first to be completed simply given its smaller community size.

Vianet, meantime, is providing Fibre Optic services to many businesses and some homes in Sudbury and continues to invest in infrastructure to wire the entire city. The feedback from initial customers has been excellent with expansion ongoing.

“This service will provide the residents of Chapleau some of the overall fastest Internet speeds in Canada today. There are very few communities in Canada that can boast a similar next generation network,” says Regaudie, “Going to an all-Fibre network gives us unlimited capabilities, higher quality and excellent reliability. We’re very proud of this achievement.”

“After 25 years in business, 18 of those as an Internet Service Provider, Vianet continues to innovate,” adds Regaudie. “For example, we were one of the first Independent Internet Service Providers in Canada to provide Internet through cable modems. Now it’s Fibre Optic services to the Home at prices that are lower than most of our competitors providing slower speeds.”

Labour Minister Lisa Raitt has tabled back-to-work legislation to end a strike by 4,800 Canadian Pacific Railway employees

Canada union representatives and management from CP. Both sides rejected a proposal made by a government-appointed mediator.

The 4,800 workers began a legal strike last Wednesday, walking off the job and shutting down CP’s freight service across the country.

Doug Finnsion, vice-president of Teamsters Canada Rail Conference, said Monday after Raitt’s announcement that he believes the employer has been counting on the government to step in.

“The talks didn’t really go anywhere and I don’t believe they were going to go anywhere. I think CP was always going to rely on the government to act,” Finnsion said.

Pensions, health spending accounts and fatigue management are the key issues in negotiations. If the employer would remove its planned changes to the pension plan, Finnsion said, a deal would likely be achieved.

CP has said the company needs to make changes in order to remain profitable. But the union accuses management of clawing back a pension program employees have worked for years to build, while managers are scheduled for increases to their own pension program.

“The company is hiding behind the usual excuse: i.e. that the company should be more and more profitable. Meanwhile, the workers suffer the consequences,” said Teamsters Canada

President Robert Bouvier in a news release.

In its own statement on Sunday, CP said it was “disappointed” that a negotiated settlement couldn’t be reached to end the “unnecessary” strike.

“While the parties met this weekend, the federal mediator withdrew from the negotiations this afternoon, and the talks between CP and the TCRC ended,” said the statement issued Sunday by Ian MacKay, vice-president of customer service.

“CP is disappointed that a negotiated settlement was not reached, and will cooperate with any decision by the minister of labour and Parliament.”

Raitt said CP Rail employees shouldn’t be surprised by the government’s intervention. In the past 10 labour disputes involving Canada’s major railways, the federal government has intervened each and every time to legislate employees back to work, she said last week.

Raitt has also intervened in recent labour disputes at Air Canada and Canada Post. In each case, she has said a strike would inconvenience Canadians and harm the economy.

Chapleau on the list for the fifth Annual Interprovincial Air Tour May 31 – June 3, 2012

Organizers of the Interprovincial Air Tour (members of Canadian Owners and Pilots Association) are excited to announce the details of the fifth annual Air Tour May 31 – June 3, 2012.

The participants fly in small private airplanes for this four day weekend adventure! The tour encompasses six different communities and covers 600 nautical miles of Northern Ontario & Quebec wilderness. This year the Air Tour will visit the following Communities: Muskoka, St. Bruno de Guigues, Kapuskasing, Chapleau, Sault Ste Marie and Gore Bay.

In addition to exploring some unique areas of the two provinces while enjoying their favourite pastime, the pilots present a commemorative plaque to each community visited. The presentation highlights the value of the Airports to their communities and showcases the value of General Aviation to the Canadian economy.

60 airplanes will be flying the tour. Over 80 of the 120 participants are pilots, 10% of whom are female pilots. Approximately half of the registered airplanes are Cessnas, and Pipers and the other half is made up a variety of airplanes, including Bonanzas, Mooneys, float planes and homebuilts.

On Thursday May 31st, the aircraft will depart from more than 30 airports around Ontario, Quebec, and Michigan, and will converge on Muskoka early afternoon. The Airport is hosting a welcome reception for the delegates. In conjunction with the Air Tour participants being at the Airport, the Royal Norwegian Consulate General and the Norwegian Ambassador are unveiling a plaque at the Little Norway Display at the Airport. In honour of this occasion, 5 dignitaries are coming from Norway – including 2 Generals who did their flight training in Muskoka during WW 11. Dinner cruise later in the evening on The Lady Muskoka promises to be lots of fun as the shipload of adventurers sail past some Muskoka Lake mansions.

On Friday morning, the Tour will fly north east to St. Bruno de Guigues PQ, where they will have lunch and then head back into Ontario where the next stop is Kapuskasing. The Town of Kapuskasing is promising to make our stop there memorable by providing the group with a community tour, showcasing their rich history, culture, architectural and natural charm. Dinner will feature local fare and will be at the Town Hall with City dignitaries attending.

On Saturday the lunch stop is in Chapleau where participants will be bussed to town to explore downtown Chapleau. Then it's on to Sault Ste Marie with arrival scheduled for mid afternoon. The Canadian Bushplane Heritage Museum has been reserved for the evening and the participants will be able to tour at their leisure and then enjoy the catered dinner at the Museum. The highlight of the tour will be the new movie Wildfire! A fire fighting adventure in 3D.

On Sunday morning, the group will depart eastbound for Gore Bay where A/p Manager Robby promises a warm welcome and friendly service. A tour has been arranged at Meeker's Aquaculture Fish Farm. Mike Meeker raises fish from small fingerlings to market size and he has also developed an award winning bi-product, fish compost known as Meeker's Magic Mix. This tour promises to be quite interesting and informative as to how entrepreneurship works in Northern Ontario.

The Gore Bay stop signals the wrap up of the 2012 Interprovincial Air Tour. After lunch participants will fly back to their home airports knowing that they were able to enjoy a weekend adventure of sightseeing and exploring our great country – best experienced from the air in a small airplane!

Maison Boréal fait un pas de l'avant

Le 26 avril 2012 une délégation du comité Maison Boréal Home s'est rendu Espanola pour une rencontre avec le conseil des services du district de Manitoulin-Sudbury dans le but de présenter le projet de logement supportif a prix modique pour la future Maison Boréal Home Inc.

Ce projet a débuté avec une étude de besoins. Mme Ouellette qui présenta ce document a souligné l'historique du programme qui est en développement depuis 5 ans.

Le principe derrière ce projet est que les aînés ne veulent pas être séparés de leur famille ou amis dans leurs derniers jours quand le support de ceux-ci est nécessaire.

Maison Boréal présente une alternative en amenant 32 logis dans le centre ville pour répondre a ces besoins.

Mme Doreen Cachagee a terminé en précisant que ce projet est supporté par les 3 premières Nations et le conseil municipal de Chapleau.

Le conseil des services du district de Manitoulin-Sudbury va étudier le contenu du document présenté.

Ce conseil a également suggéré d'établir des partenariats pour ce projet. Les membres du conseil se sont dit impressionnés du niveau de travail qui fut accompli et de la présentation.

Le Maire M. André Byham a commenté du support du conseil municipal. Il a dit « Aujourd'hui nous avons fait un grand pas de l'avant » et nous pouvons continuer a progresser.

Ontario Power Generation reports 2012 first quarter financial results

CNW
Ontario Power Generation Inc. ("OPG" or the "Company") today reported its financial and operating results for the three months ended March 31, 2012. Net income for the first quarter of 2012 was $154 million compared to $153 million for same quarter in 2011.

Tom Mitchell, President and CEO of OPG said, "The Company had a successful first quarter in holding down costs while reliably and safely providing almost 60 per cent of the power produced in the province."

"I understand that Ontarians are concerned about their electricity bills. I can assure them that OPG continues to look at internal cost savings in order to continue to moderate its impact on the total bill for consumers."

"The average revenue that OPG received for a kilowatt hour of electricity in the first quarter of 2012 was 5.0 cents. This is slightly below the average revenue that we received in the same period a year earlier of 5.2 cents, and it is well below the prices currently paid by consumers under Ontario's regulated price plan, which range from 6.5 cents to 11.7 cents per kilowatt hour."

Mr. Mitchell noted the following regarding the performance recognition for OPG's largest nuclear station, "I am very pleased to share that in March, our Darlington nuclear station received its best ever safety and performance peer review by the World Association of Nuclear Operators ("WANO"). In its review, WANO found twelve different areas of strength, which they noted as worthy of international benchmarking - including our response to the Fukushima nuclear event last year. This achievement demonstrates our strong focus on safety and our commitment to performance excellence and reliability. It was a tremendous opportunity to receive feedback and continue to further improve our performance to the benefit of the people of Ontario."

Highlights

Net income for the first quarter of 2012 of $154 million increased by $1 million compared to the first quarter of 2011. The increase in net income was primarily a result of higher earnings from the Nuclear Fixed Assets Removal and Nuclear Waste Management Funds ("Nuclear Funds") primarily due to a greater increase in the valuation levels of global equity markets, and lower operations, maintenance, and administration ("OM&A") costs primarily due to the impact of deferral and variance accounts established by the Ontario Energy Board. The increase in net income was partially offset by the impact of lower spot market electricity prices for production from unregulated hydroelectric stations, and higher depreciation and amortization expenses.

OPG's income before interest and income taxes from the electricity generation business segments was $157 million for the first quarter of 2012 compared to $244 million for the same period in 2011. This decrease in income from the electricity generation business segments was primarily due to lower Ontario spot electricity market prices and higher depreciation and amortization expenses, partially offset by lower OM&A costs. The Regulated - Nuclear Waste Management business segment recorded income before interest and income taxes of $24 million for the first quarter of 2012 compared to a loss before interest and income taxes of $34 million for the same period in 2011. This increase was primarily due to higher earnings from the Nuclear Funds in 2012.

Total electricity generated during the first quarter of 2012 of 22.0 TWh was slightly lower than the 22.2 TWh produced in the first quarter of 2011. The slight decrease was primarily due to lower unregulated hydroelectric generation as a result of below normal precipitation and water flows across the northwestern Ontario river systems, largely offset by an increase in regulated hydroelectric generation due to higher water flows on the St. Lawrence River.

The capability factor at the Darlington nuclear station was 95.6 per cent in the first quarter of 2012 compared to 97.9 per cent for the same quarter in 2011, and reflected a marginal increase in unplanned outage days. The Pickering stations had a 77.0 per cent capability factor compared to 78.0 per cent in the first quarter of 2011, primarily as a result of higher planned outage days. The availability of OPG's regulated and unregulated hydroelectric generating stations remained at high levels. The Start Guarantee at the thermal generating stations for the first quarter of 2012 was 94.1 per cent, which was consistent with the result for the same period in 2011. The high Start Guarantee for the first quarter of 2012 and 2011 reflects the ability of the thermal generating stations to respond to market requirements when needed.

Generation Development

OPG is undertaking a number of generation development projects to support Ontario's long-term electricity supply requirements. The status of these capacity expansion or life extension projects is as follows:

Nuclear

For the refurbishment of the Darlington generating station, OPG awarded the Retube and Feeder Replacement contract on March 1, 2012. The contract is one of several contracts that will be awarded. The next major contract to be awarded is the Turbine/Generator contract. Construction on the Darlington Energy Complex ("Complex") remains on target for occupancy in the fall of 2013. The Complex will house the full-scale reactor mock-up, a warehouse, and office space to support the Darlington Refurbishment project.

In May 2012, the federal government approved the Darlington New Nuclear Project Environmental Assessment ("EA"). The approval of the EA provides independent review and confirmation that the project will not result in any significant adverse environmental impacts, given mitigation.

OPG is continuing to undertake a coordinated set of initiatives to evaluate the opportunity to continue the safe and reliable operation of Units 5 to 8 at the Pickering nuclear generating station for approximately an additional four to six years beyond its nominal end of life. OPG completed the necessary inspection and equipment improvements of the Unit 8 reactor in May 2012 and began planning work for the Unit 7 outage. OPG expects to complete the necessary work by the end of 2012 to demonstrate, with sufficient confidence, that the pressure tubes will achieve the additional life as predicted.

Hydroelectric

The installation of the permanent concrete liner, as well as other lining and grouting activities continues at the Niagara Tunnel. The tunnel is expected to be completed within the approved budget of $1.6 billion, and by the approved completion date of December 2013. As at March 31, 2012, the life-to-date capital expenditures were $1.2 billion.

The Lower Mattagami River project continues to progress. During the first quarter of 2012, concrete work was in progress at the Smoky Falls, Little Long and Harmon sites. Cofferdam installation continued at the Kipling site. The project is expected to be completed within the approved budget of $2.6 billion by the approved completion date of June 2015. As at March 31, 2012, the life-to-date capital expenditures were $897 million.

Thermal

OPG and the Ontario Power Authority ("OPA") are in the final stages of negotiating the Atikokan Biomass Energy Supply Agreement, and in the early stages of negotiating an Energy Supply Agreement for the Thunder Bay thermal generating station. OPG is continuing to proceed with related detailed engineering work to burn biomass at the Atikokan generating station and natural gas at the Thunder Bay generating station.

As outlined in Ontario's Long-Term Energy Plan and Supply Mix Directive to the OPA, OPG continues to explore the possible conversion of some units at the Lambton and Nanticoke generating stations to natural gas, with an option for co-firing with biomass, if required for system reliability.
