Chapleau High School students and staff continue to support our troops in Afghanistan

Chapleau High School Students' Council members and Mrs. C. Boucher once again spent their lunch hour packing 48 containers for our Canadian troops deployed in Afghanistan. The packages contained an assortment of gum and candy along with a pair of socks donated by the CHS Drama Club, toothbrushes with covers donated by Dr. Shearer and his staff, and magazines from Mrs. Margaret Coulter.

An edition of the Chapleau Express dated March 17, 2007 with pictures of Sapper Joel Lafreniere was also included in each package with a letter from a CHS student. The packages were taken to Sault Ste. Marie by Mr. R. Hryhorchuk and picked up by Captain Jeff Allen who has been our liaison with the troops in Afghanistan. Captain Allen will ship the boxes to Afghanistan for us. Our last set of packages were well received in Afghanistan. CHS received a phone call from Corporal Ben Miller of the 42nd Squadron Combat Engineers at one of the Forward Operating Bases in Afghanistan who extended thanks to the students and staff on behalf of the troops who had received packages sent in January. Mr. R. Dell was interviewed on Morning North on CBC radio in mid February where he explained what the students were doing and why. We will be sending another set of containers to Afghanistan later this year. Many thanks are extended to everyone who has helped us with this project with a special thanks to the Chapleau Express for their support.

Chapleau High School students just finishing up packaging the containers for our troops in Afghanistan. These packages will once again be more than appreciated by our troops.

Midget hockey tournament long overdue

The Midgets are coming... you have probably noticed this ad in our classified pages over the past couple of weeks, well they are coming and will be here on Friday March 30th

The Chapleau Midget Friendship Tournament kicks off at 12.00 pm on Friday March 30th with round robin play on Friday and Saturday. Also included on Saturday's agenda is the crowd favorite; Skills Competition. Then wrapping up on Sunday with a Championship game taking place at 2.30 pm.

Tournament Chairman Mark Hamel said in an interview with the Chapleau Express "At the beginning of the year the players were a little bit down on account that they were not part of the Timmins Hockey League. So I thought, hey why don't we do something about it! I sent out invitations and within a week the responses started to arrive! We have kept the entry fee down to attract teams, as a normal entry fee for a tournament of this stature is usually over $600.00 per team. We are charging $450.00 per team. If you think keeping the cost down may take something away from the tournament think again. With the success of our Saturday Night "Young Blood" vs various Challengers, the advertisement in the programs and Mr. Gouge's class helping on the trophies; we have raised enough money to not only compensate any short comings but also raised the bar when playing host to a Minor Hockey Tournament. Then again, that is the Chapleau way. This will be the first time that the core group of first year midgets actually get to host a tournament. With some having 10 years in the minor hockey system, I say it's about time!"

The Tournament Committee which includes Sandra Ruffo, Joyce Dillon, Joanne Bryson, Carla Guthrie and Mark Hamel have been gathering ideas and volunteers to ensure that this weekend is a success. One idea that had very little resistance was to have the entry fee for the spectators FREE for all of the games. They have even provided everyone in town with their own schedule along with the printed version available in this edition of the newspaper.

This is their way for saying thanks to the generous people of Chapleau for supporting minor hockey throughout the years. So come on out and have some fun ...it'on us!

Pens and pencils for Cancer

The pens, pencils and crayons, etc. are all being put to good as many students from Chapleau Public School, Ecole Sacre Coeur and Our Lady of Fatima design posters to help The Canadian Cancer Society with its battle against cancer.

These posters will be seen at various locations around town and will serve as reminders that the door to door campaign will take place during the month of April. The posters created by the children will not be judged as there are no winners or losers when we pull together for the common good. Instead, all participants will be treated to homemade goodies and a beverage in recognition of their efforts.

Please welcome the volunteer canvasser when he or she knocks on your door. They will be grateful to receive any donation - large or small. If, for some reason, the canvasser misses you and you wish to donate - call Kathryn Crichton at 864-0771 or see us at the Rotary Trade Show on April 20th & 21st. where we will be sharing a booth, compliments of The Northern Credit Union.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I have been wondering what the Mayor and Council are going to do about our "Biggest Game Preserve in the World" C a n y o u i m a g i n e s o m e American tourist fishing in one of the many lakes in that area and along comes a "Hunter" who shoots a moose they have been watching or to have a grouse shot before they can get a photo.

Instead of advertising it as the "Biggest Crown Game Preserve in the World", I guess we should take the big sign down and advertise it as the "Biggest Hunting Grounds in the World"

Liberals Lay Out Plan for Economic Competitiveness Strategy

Liberal Leader Stéphane Dion laid out a detailed long-term plan for Canada to become more competitive on the world stage. In a speech to the Canadian Club of Ottawa, Mr. Dion committed a future Liberal government to implementing a competitiveness strategy that includes investing in education and innovation, helping Canadian businesses access and succeed in global emerging markets, and ensuring the competitiveness of Canada's tax regime.

"As Prime Minister, I would govern for the long term. I would adopt policies because they are right not just for the Canada of today but also the Canada of the future - for a healthy planet, for social justice, for a strong economy and good jobs for ourselves, our children, and the next generation," Mr. Dion said. On taxes, a new Liberal government would: • ensure that income taxes are low and that taxes on business and investment are competitive; • enhance Capital Cost Allowance rates consistently to encourage businesses to continually re-invest in modern machinery and equipment; • relationship with the United States. And on innovation and education, a new Liberal government would: • reverse Conservative cuts to research and development (R&D) spending - to research granting councils, to Technology Partnerships Canada - and build on the Chrétien-Martin legacy with policies that help bring ideas from the lab to the market; • reverse Conservative cuts to postsecondary education - to students' financial assistance, to graduate scholarships, to international study; • reverse Conservative cuts to the Liberal Labour Market Partnership Agreements to enhance workplace-based skills.

Signs and Your Business

Signs are one of the most efficient and effective means of communication. Signs help people find you, reach people who are passing by your establishment, and present an image of your business. In short, signs tell people who you are and what you are selling.

Before selecting a sign for your business there are several things you should consider:

•In order to communicate effectively, a sign must be noticeable and large enough to read. A stark simple design and materials may suggest discount prices and no frills. An elegant and expensive design and materials may suggest luxury goods and services. If your customers can only reach you by car or you are located on a very busy street, the type of sign that you use will be very different than if you have a shopping centre location where people must walk to your store from parking lots.

•Graphic elements of design include layout of the message, colours, lettering, shape, symbolism, harmony, and daytime versus night-time lighting conditions. A well-designed sign blends with the environment, has a message impact and overcomes viewing problems.

•Decide on a message that is clear and simple. Choose one or two words that describe your business. Be brief. The cleaner and clearer the message, the more impact it has. The size of the sign is also an important consideration for your business. The biggest sign that you can afford may not necessarily be the best one for your needs. A sign should go with its surroundings. • A sign is an investment.

Your sign is one of the most permanent parts of your business and is exposed to weather and constant use. The average life of signs varies from five to eleven years, depending on the type of materials used, construction and other factors. Find out how many years of service to expect from your sign. It pays to purchase good materials if you intend to use the sign over a period of years.

•Maintenance costs. No business can afford to have its sign fall into disrepair. A dilapidated sign tells the public that you are not concerned with your business image or their visual environment. Some types of signs are virtually maintenance free while others require more attention. •Energy consumption. New technological developments now enable some types of signs to achieve energy savings without sacrificing effect. Inquire about new energy saving bulbs and internal materials and find out how to replace burnt out bulbs or tubes. •Owning vs. leasing. Many sign companies have programs whereby you can lease a sign for a given period of time and they will maintain it for you. This may be more economical for newer businesses, especially if there is any chance that logos or names may change in the first few years of operation.

•Also consider city or town planning goals and regulations when ordering a sign, as some types of signs are not permitted in certain areas.

Determine what the regulations are in your community before you discuss design with a sign designer. Most sign companies are well aware of the regulations in any given community and can guide you in selecting a sign, which is not in violation of the law.

•Finally, if your business has a website presence, put that URL everywhere. Put your URL on a big well-designed sign and hang it in your window. Got a car? Print up bumper stickers that show your URL. Drive your URL all over town. When you're sitting in traffic, someone behind you can scribble it down and check it out. Have magnetic door signs made for your car that include your logo and URL. Get noticed wherever you go.

Signs communicate to potential customers twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, week after week, month after month, year after year. The mere repetition of the message will help customers remember your business. Once initial expenditures are made, you need only operate and maintain your sign.

For a detailed checklist on business signs and your business please visit the Canada Business Service Centre at www.cbcs.org

Chapleau Celebrates our Phenomenal Women of 2007

A warm and wonderful celebration was held at the Trinity United Church on March 8th, International Women's Day. This particular event was specifically to recognize and celebrate sixteen local Phenomenal Women. Over fifty people nominees, family and friends, young and younger turned out to make this event a huge success. The evening was co-sponsored and hosted by Pat Tangie, Community Wellness Worker for APANO, and Judy Stein, Transitional and Housing Support Worker for CHADWIC Home Family Resource Centre.

The focus was on our local Phenomenal Women and their positive and inspirational contributions to our community. Without realizing it, these women have each made definite impacts on the lives of their nominators. These impacts have in turn created a ripple effect which has ultimately improved life for all of us in Chapleau.

This year's Phenomenal Women

nominees included Bernie Black, Mrs. G. Dell, Rita Servent, Marie Rose Corbin, Louise Langelier, Vanessa Morrison, Esther Kovacs, Kamala Rupakheti Gautam, Barbra Murray, Peggy Domingue, Edith Larocque, Rita Pilon, Evelyn Charron, Kim Carroll, Gloria Demers, and Louise Gaudreau.

Each nominee was presented with a certificate summarizing their nominator's reasons for choosing them as a Phenomenal Woman. Those women being honoured were also presented with a carnation. This is in keeping with the traditional symbols of International Women's Day, which are bread and roses. Bread represents our demands for the necessities of life, and roses symbolize our quest for an improved quality of life. A multitude of family and friends joined us for dessert, refreshments and some excellent socializing.

Separate door prize draws were made for those who were nominated, and for those in attendance. From the nominees, Peggy Domingue, Esther Kovacs, and Kamala Rupakheti Gautam received door prizes. From those in attendance, Claudia Desbiens was the winning name drawn.

During the organization of this event, the sponsors recognized that there were elements that could be improved upon for future years. One specific element is having a greater representation of women from the diverse cultural backgrounds in Chapleau. A call went out to those in attendance to become part of an organizing committee to ensure greater representation next time around. We are pleased to inform you that eight women answered the call. With all of these new volunteers it looks promising for an even better event next year. If there are women in the community who were not able to attend the event and would like to be involved in such a committee, please contact Pat Tangie.

This year, both Judy and I want to extend our deepest and sincerest thanks to everyone who made this evening so successful. Thank you to Trinity United Church for the use of their hall, to the drummers from Fox Lake, to the nominators who took the time to recognize special women, and to the friends and family members who came to support the nominees. We were very honoured to coordinate such a heart-warming evening. Chapleau, you really stepped up to the plate! Thank you, Meegwetch, Merci!

concerns of the eras, i.e., the courage and optimism of the war years.

The Timmins All Star Big Band's music is said to demand movement; the band and the dancers have a

CHADWIC HOME, FAMILY RESOURCE CENTRE

Offers shelter, emotional support, and information for women and their children who are in crisis situations. We have a Toll Free Crisis Line which is staffed 24 hours a day. We can arrange for free transportation to the Centre for women who live in the Algoma/Chapleau area. We also offer support to women who live in the communities of Chapleau, White River, Dubreuilville, and Hornepayne through our Outreach Program. Our Outreach Worker travels to those communities to meet with women who need emotional support as well as information about their rights and options. If you need to speak with the Outreach Worker when she is in your community, you can call the Centre at any time to set up an appointment. You do not need to be a resident of the Centre in order to use our services. If you need someone to talk to or if you just need someone to listen, call our Toll Free Crisis line at 1-800-461-2242 or you can drop in at the Centre. We are here for you.

Melanie Marcos has re-located to Unique Esthetics in the Timmins Square. Starting Saturday March 24th please call 705-267-3001 for appointments. Thank you, Merci. Melanie
